Her findings found a high return on the Council’s investment in the development of the Citizen Science Program. By supporting the Citizen Science Project Design Workshop and one staff person, a volunteer corps of over 45 people was mobilized, devoting the estimated equivalent of over $50k worth of time to develop the SOPPS and the community capacity to implement them, as well as the development of 2+ pilot projects. Recommendations for the continued development and growth of the Council’s Program included: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Investing in the continuity of the Program by maintaining and growing staff support ○ Retaining the Action Teams, which will both require and offset staff time (e.g. mobilize to review/update products) ○ Seeking and securing funds on hand to anticipate and enable timely project roll-out; and ○ To conduct an analytical study of success factors and evaluation of both the Program and individual projects. • Rick Bonney gave a presentation on evaluation, highlighting its importance in order to determine whether a project or program is working and to identify ways to improve overall effectiveness. He noted that evaluation can be complicated and requires a careful look at goals, objectives, and indicators of success. He noted that the Council has led the way in the development of its Citizen Science Program by focusing on the Program first approach and that they will need to lead the way in the development of an evaluation plan for this Program. 	Staff will work with the SEFSC and reach out to the states and Dolphin/Wahoo AP members to help determine when and where to hold the workshops. The Council reviewed, made modifications, and approved the updated Citizen Science research priorities. The Council reiterated their support for the program and thanked Dr. Shirk and Rick Bonney for all their help and support. The Committee supported pursuing evaluation for both the overall Citizen Science Program and individual projects. As a next step for the Program evaluation, they supported staff working with Rick Bonney and the Operations Committee to draft Program objectives and indicators of success based on the Program goals identified in the SOPPS. These draft objectives and indicators of success would then be brought to the Council for their review and consideration.
--	--	--

		Once there are agreed upon Program goals, objectives, and indicators of success, an evaluation plan can begin to be developed. Staff noted that it would be helpful to have someone independent of the Program help conduct an evaluation and additional resources may be required to support the evaluation.
